Scripture:

Romans 12:20 & 21 Therefore "If your enemy is hungry, feed him; If he is thirsty, give him a drink; For in so doing you will heap coals of fire on his head." Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (NKJV)

Message:

You really do not want to have anything to do with someone who has done or said something to hurt you. You don't want to see them or hear anything they have to say. In your mind, they are not a friend anymore, but they are now your enemy because friends do not treat friends badly. However, what if the person falls upon bad times and things become difficult with them and their families, would you treat them the same way they treated you? Ignoring them and pretending they do not exist?

It is going to be hard because you truly do not want to mix with them. But you have to forgive them and help to meet their needs, even if it is to pray for them. You are also forgiving them for yourself as if you remain bitter and angry, you will not be able to show the love of the Lord to them. Also, you would be blocking out the voice of the Lord and not hearing when He speaks to you. When your "enemy is hungry, give him something to eat and when she is thirsty, give her something to drink". Always do your best at all times and leave the rest to God.
